Disclosures and Disclaimers

NICASDIGITALPAGE | Effective date: November 5, 2026

1 Scope

These disclosures explain our use of artificial intelligence, affiliate relationships, sponsorships, and the educational nature of our content. They apply to NICASDIGITALPAGE products, free resources, emails, and content where relevant. A specific disclosure accompanying a recommendation identifies the relationship for that promotion.

2 Affiliate relationships

We participate in affiliate marketing programs. When you make a qualifying purchase or take another qualifying action through an affiliate link, we may earn a commission or receive another benefit. Compensation can create a financial interest in a recommendation.

We identify affiliate relationships clearly alongside the relevant recommendation or link. References to an affiliate arrangement do not mean that every linked product is an affiliate product. Prices, discounts, eligibility, and merchant terms are determined by the seller and may change.

3 Sponsorships and other benefits

We may receive payment, free or discounted products, complimentary access, or other benefits in connection with content. We disclose the relevant relationship with the sponsored or incentivized content. A general statement on this page does not replace that specific disclosure.

Our recommendations and descriptions must reflect our actual experience or the basis we identify. A sponsorship does not justify unsupported claims or a claim that we personally tested something we have not tested.

4 Artificial intelligence

We use generative AI tools, which may include ChatGPT, Claude, Muse, and other services, to assist with text, images, ideas, examples, and other digital materials. Products and content may contain AI-generated or AI-assisted elements.

AI systems can produce inaccurate, incomplete, outdated, or similar outputs for different users. We do not promise that AI-assisted material is entirely unique, free from error, or eligible for exclusive copyright protection in every part. You should verify factual claims and assess suitability before relying on the material.

Synthetic illustrations and hypothetical examples are not evidence of actual customer experiences or results. Where AI-created depictions could reasonably be mistaken for real people, events, or testimonials, they will be identified appropriately. We do not present fabricated testimonials as genuine customer experiences.

5 Educational purpose and results

Our content provides general educational information. It is not individualized legal, tax, financial, medical, or other regulated professional advice. For decisions requiring that expertise, consult an appropriately qualified professional.

We do not guarantee income, sales, affiliate commissions, audience growth, engagement, business opportunities, or any other outcome. Results depend on factors including your circumstances, experience, effort, decisions, market conditions, and third-party platforms. Examples are illustrative and do not promise that you will achieve the same result.

6 Third-party services

Products may refer to independent platforms, tools, or brands. Their names and marks belong to their respective owners. Mentioning a service or using it to create or deliver a product does not itself mean that its owner sponsors, approves, or endorses NICASDIGITALPAGE. Any actual affiliate or sponsorship relationship is disclosed separately.

Third-party services have their own prices, terms, privacy practices, and availability. Review those terms before using a service or making a purchase.

7 Your rights and contact

These disclosures do not excuse misleading advertising, change the description of a product you purchased, or limit mandatory consumer rights or liability that cannot lawfully be excluded.
