Terms and Conditions

NICASDIGITALPAGE | Effective date: November 5, 2026

1 Seller and agreement

These Terms and Conditions govern digital products and free resources supplied by Leonica Fountain, an individual operating as NICASDIGITALPAGE in Washington, United States ("we," "us," or "our"). Contact: info@nicasdigitalpage.com.

Please review these terms and the product description before ordering or requesting a resource. We present these terms for agreement at checkout or the relevant download step. Our Copyright and Personal Use Policy forms part of the product-use terms. Our Privacy Policy explains personal-information practices; accepting these terms is not consent to optional email marketing.

Purchasers must be at least the age of majority where they live and legally capable of entering this agreement. Nothing in these terms excludes rights or remedies that cannot lawfully be excluded.

2 Products and compatibility

We sell digital goods and provide digital educational resources. No physical item will be shipped. The listing describes what is included, file formats, delivery method, any promised access period, and known software or paid-account requirements.

Review those requirements before purchasing. Third-party software, subscriptions, customization, coaching, future updates, and ongoing services are not included unless expressly promised in the listing. We remain responsible for supplying the product as described.

3 Price and payment

The price, currency, and any applicable taxes or charges are shown before purchase. Review the displayed currency, particularly when ordering from Canada. Your bank or payment provider may apply currency-conversion or other charges under its own terms.

Payments are processed through the providers available at checkout. You must be authorized to use your selected payment method. Prices and promotions may change for future transactions; changes do not alter completed purchases. A free download does not create a paid subscription or authorize future charges.

4 Delivery and access

After payment is confirmed, paid products are supplied electronically through the method and within the timeframe stated in the listing or checkout. Free resources are delivered through the stated download or email process. Provide accurate contact information and check your spam or promotions folder if an expected email is missing.

Contact info@nicasdigitalpage.com for a missing file, broken link, or access problem. Include your order identifier if available, purchase email, product name, and a description of the issue. Do not send full payment-card details.

Save an unchanged personal copy when downloads are provided. Unless a particular access period is promised, hosted links are not promised to remain available indefinitely. This does not excuse nondelivery or reduce a promised access period or legal remedy.

5 Personal use only

All products and free resources are licensed for personal use only under our Copyright and Personal Use Policy. You may download and save unchanged copies for your own private use and reasonable backup. You may not alter, reformat, share, redistribute, rebrand, publish, resell, or commercially exploit the product or its protected content.

No commercial-use, PLR, MRR, or resale license is included. The license permits learning and applying general ideas; it does not transfer ownership of the supplied material. Nonwaivable legal rights and exceptions continue to apply.

6 Final sales and product problems

All digital-product sales are final. We do not offer discretionary change-of-mind refunds, exchanges, or cancellations for reasons such as deciding not to use a product or overlooking clearly disclosed compatibility requirements.

This final-sale policy does not exclude remedies required by law or remedies for missing delivery, defective or corrupted files, materially misdescribed products, duplicate charges, or incorrect charges. Contact info@nicasdigitalpage.com with the details so we can investigate and provide an appropriate remedy, which may include restoring access, supplying a corrected file, replacement, or a refund where warranted or legally required. Where the law entitles you to choose a remedy, that right remains yours.

Please report problems promptly so we can assist. This request does not impose a shorter deadline than applicable law permits. Nothing here requires you to waive a valid payment dispute or statutory cancellation right.

7 Freebies and marketing preferences

We may request your name and email address to deliver a free resource. Ongoing promotional emails require a separate optional signup. You may request the resource without agreeing to marketing and may unsubscribe later without losing the personal-use license already granted to your resource.

Information is handled as described in our Privacy Policy. A free resource remains subject to the same personal-use restrictions as a paid product.

8 Educational and AI-assisted content

Products are for general education and personal use. They may include AI-generated or AI-assisted material. They are not individualized professional advice, and we do not guarantee earnings, audience growth, sales, or other results. Review our Disclosures and Disclaimers for additional information about AI use, affiliations, sponsorships, and examples.

Check information before relying on it and obtain qualified advice where needed. These provisions do not excuse false product claims or eliminate our responsibility for legally required product standards.

9 Third-party platforms

Beacons, payment providers, AI services, and other referenced tools are independent services with their own terms and privacy practices. A product purchase does not grant a subscription to those services or rights beyond their applicable licenses. Referencing a brand does not itself imply endorsement or sponsorship.

Third-party changes may affect how a resource works. Any required remedy for a product that does not meet our description or applicable law remains available.

10 Responsibility and limits

You are responsible for your decisions and lawful use of the products. To the extent permitted by law, we are not liable for indirect or consequential losses resulting from their use. This limitation does not apply where prohibited and does not exclude liability for fraud, willful misconduct, gross negligence, or any liability or consumer remedy that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited.

No statement that results vary or that a sale is final overrides a specific product promise or mandatory consumer protection.

11 Questions and disputes

For a question, complaint, or dispute, contact info@nicasdigitalpage.com with enough information for us to understand and investigate the issue. We encourage an opportunity to resolve concerns directly, but contacting us first is not a condition of exercising a legal right where that condition would be unlawful.

These terms are governed by Washington State law, subject to mandatory protections that apply where you live. This choice does not deprive Canadian or other consumers of nonwaivable local protections or lawful access to an appropriate court or regulator. These terms do not impose mandatory arbitration or a class-action waiver.

12 Changes and interpretation

We may update these terms for future transactions. The version provided when you purchase or receive a product governs that transaction unless a later change is required by law or validly agreed. We will not remove an existing license or promised benefit merely by posting revised terms.

A specific product promise made before purchase remains binding to the extent required by law. If a provision is unenforceable, the remaining provisions continue where legally possible. Failure to enforce a provision once does not waive our right to enforce it later.

Contact: Leonica Fountain, operating as NICASDIGITALPAGE, Washington, United States. Email: info@nicasdigitalpage.com.

Mailing address: 1511 3rd Ave, Suite 1002 -1143, Seattle, WA 98101, United States.